EXAMINATIONS
Examinations are conducted in June and November of each year, depending on your subject selection. Examination registration closing dates are early February and late July. Examinations are conducted at various examination venues in South Africa. International learners will need to liaise with the Damelin Correspondence College Examinations Department, and with a Cambridge International Examinations (CIE) venue in the country where they reside to make the necessary arrangements for the examinations that they wish to write.

GRADING AND CERTIFICATION
Grades will be awarded on one of seven levels (A to G) in each subject. The highest grade is Grade A. IGCSE certificates list only results in all subjects in which the student has attained a Grade G or better. CIE does not combine the grades on one certificate for subjects written during separate sessions. For example, if you write 3 subjects during the June examination session and 4 subjects during the October/November examination session, you will receive two SEPARATE certificates for the subjects written in each of these sessions. Candidates who fail to achieve the minimum satisfactory standard of work in a subject will not be given a grade in that subject.

If you study a subject on core level, you cannot obtain a grading higher than a C symbol. The core level is intended for students who do not wish to continue with specific courses at tertiary institutions. Should you wish to continue with higher grade studies or professional training, you must take your subjects on the extended level of IGCSE. Some subjects do not allow you to choose between either the core or the extended level. Damelin Correspondence College only offers the Extended Syllabus.
